

ANNOUNCEMENT

For Immediate Release - July 8, 2024, LOS ANGELES, CA

Not Real Art and Crewest Studio are excited to announce a timely art exhibition and related events pertaining to the upcoming 2024 Election. Indivisible 2024 will be presented at The Artists Gallery (TAG) an artist-founded and operated non-profit gallery at 5458 Wilshire Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90036 from Sept. 11- October 3, 2024.

The exhibition will feature some of the most exciting contemporary political artists in the Los Angeles area along with legendary activist artists and collectives from the Center for the Study of Political Graphics. Indivisible 2024 is an exploration of our fragile democracy, the policy issues that unite and divide us, the principles on which democracy were founded, and the urgency of our current political dilemma. Reproductive rights, immigration, the climate crisis, gun violence, healthcare, equality, justice, civil rights and freedom of expression are some of the themes in this exhibition. Each artist represented brings their unique perspective and voice to these issues and acts as a positive catalyst for civil discourse through their art. Through the power of art and activism, this exhibition will encourage active engagement in our democracy during the 2024 election cycle and beyond by creating a space for public dialogue and engagement.

Curated by Karen Fiorito, political activist, artist, and curator, this exhibition explores our fragile democracy, it's failing institutions and the threat of an authoritarian nightmare. By partnering with Swing Left to get out the vote, Fiorito hopes to engage the public through live political poster printing, voter registration opportunities, panel discussions, and other related events. In addition to curating Indivisible 2024, Fiorito is simultaneously having a solo show in the West Gallery at TAG in conjunction with this special curatorial exhibition. This exhibition of her political activism, Sign Language, will feature miniature billboards alongside photos of actual billboards she has designed over the past 20 years.

Fiorito says, "These exhibitions are a celebration of Activism, which is a combination of Art and Activism. Activism opens dialogues, creates change and encourages growth through awareness and empathy for others, which leads the public towards the greater good."
