The Leighton Artist Studios comprise nine distinct studios suitable for individual artists working in the following disciplines:

- writing for stage and screen
- composing and songwriting
- literary arts
- visual arts
- critical and curatorial writing
- interdisciplinary practices not requiring technical support or equipment rental

A tenth studio, the Painter House, is suitable for groups of two to ten artists working collaboratively.

Leighton Studio residencies are geared to professional artists working on major research-creation projects or new bodies of work. The program is best suited to artists who are self-motivated, focused, and wanting time and space for introspection.

Financial Aid of 100% is available to cover tuition, and 50% is available to offset meal plan and accommodation costs.
